DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restriction

Restriction to one of the following inventions is required under 35 U.S.C. § 121:

- I. Claims 1-20, drawn to an absorbent article, classified in class 604, subclass 387.
- II. Claim 21, drawn to a method for attaching an absorbent article to a wearer, classified in class 604, subclass 540.

Inventions I and II are related as product and process of use. The inventions can be shown to be distinct if either or both of the following can be shown: (1) the process for using the product as claimed can be practiced with another materially different product or (2) the product as claimed can be used in a materially different process of using that product (MPEP § 806.05(h)). In the instant case the claimed method could be used to attach a conventional tape tab diaper to a wearer.

Because these inventions are distinct for the reasons given above and have acquired a separate status in the art as shown by their different classification, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

During a telephone conversation with Jeff Moore on December 9, 2002, a provisional election was made without traverse to prosecute the invention of an absorbent article, claims 1-20. Affirmation of this election must be made by applicant in replying to this Office Action. Claim 21 is withdrawn from further consideration by the examiner, 37 CFR 1.142(b), as being drawn to a non-elected invention.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. § 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office Action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claims 1, 14 and 16 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. § 102(b) as being anticipated by Goulait (5,108,384).

Goulait teaches an absorbent article (20) having a first waist region, a second waist region and a crotch region inter connecting the first waist region and second waist region, an article inner surface (26) and an article outer surface (30), the absorbent article (20) comprising:

a topsheet (26);

a backsheet (30);

a fastening device (24) for joining at least a portion of said first waist region with at least a portion of said second waist region, the fastening device (24) including at least one first fastening member (60), and at least one second fastening member (66);

the first fastening member (60) is joined to the first waist region, the first fastening member includes, at least one first tab, the first tab including a first tab inner surface, a first tab outer surface (79), and a first tab (78) fastening element (63) on the first tab (78) inner surface (63), at least one second tab, the second tab including a second tab inner surface, a second tab outer surface, and a second tab fastening element on the second tab inner surface, a releasable tag to tag bond between the first tab outer surface (72) and second tab inner surface (71), the releasable tab to tab bond having a release load, at least on second fastening member (66) joined to second waist region on the article outer surface (30);

Art Unit: 3761

each first tab fastening element and second tab fastening element are configured to provide an operably secure, fastening engagement with the second fastening member (66)(see Fig. 6, below).

Allowable Subject Matter

Claims 2-13, 15, 17-20 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

The following is a statement of reasons for the indication of allowable subject matter:

The claim(s) are considered definite because the examiner cannot show by clear and convincing evidence that one of ordinary skill in the art upon consulting the specification would not be able to determine the scope of the claim(s). See in general; W.L. Gore & Associates 721 F.2d 1540, 220 USPQ 303 (Fed. Cir. 1983), cert. Denied, 496 U.S. 851 (1984).

The claim(s) are considered patentable over the prior art of record as the examiner cannot show by clear and convincing evidence that the functional or characteristic limitation claimed necessarily flows and/or is inevitably present in the teachings of the prior art of record. There are other attributes undisclosed in the prior art that necessarily affect the functional or characteristic claimed; therefore, the application of prior art is not warranted. See Ex parte Latimore, (Bd. Pat. App. & Inter. 3/21/1994), Ex parte Levy, 17 USPQ2d 1461, 1464 (Bd. Pat. App. & Inter. 1990).
